

Welcome to join our CSW67 side-event:

TECHNOLOGY AND INNOVATION FOR SRHR

Thursday 9 March, 10:00-11:15 am EST

ORGANISERS: SWEDEN, MEXICO, UNFPA CO-SPONSORS: IPPE, MUCF

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE EVENT

In times of crises young people's access to sexual and reproductive health and rights information and services are severely curtailed by lock-downs or curfews. Elsewhere, access is denied or restricted for moral or religious reasons. Rural women and girls face the additional geographical disadvantage of accessing information and services. This side-event under the auspices of the Commission on the Status of Women brings together senior government representatives, civil society, international organisations, and youth representatives for a conversation around the importance of safeguarding access to SRHR services and information. Diverse experiences and expertise are shared on how these rights can be ascertained and access to SRHR promoted, including through websites and mobile applications, overcoming major challenges and opposition.
